Festive Sunday Shopping

From Reading Road to Riverside, many of those shops usually closed on Sundays will be joining those who already do for this Festive Sunday Shopping event for a day of special offers. Enjoy the FREE Land Train and travel around the town.

Rest in Market Place, try to find Mr Toad or sing along with Santa on his Sleigh.

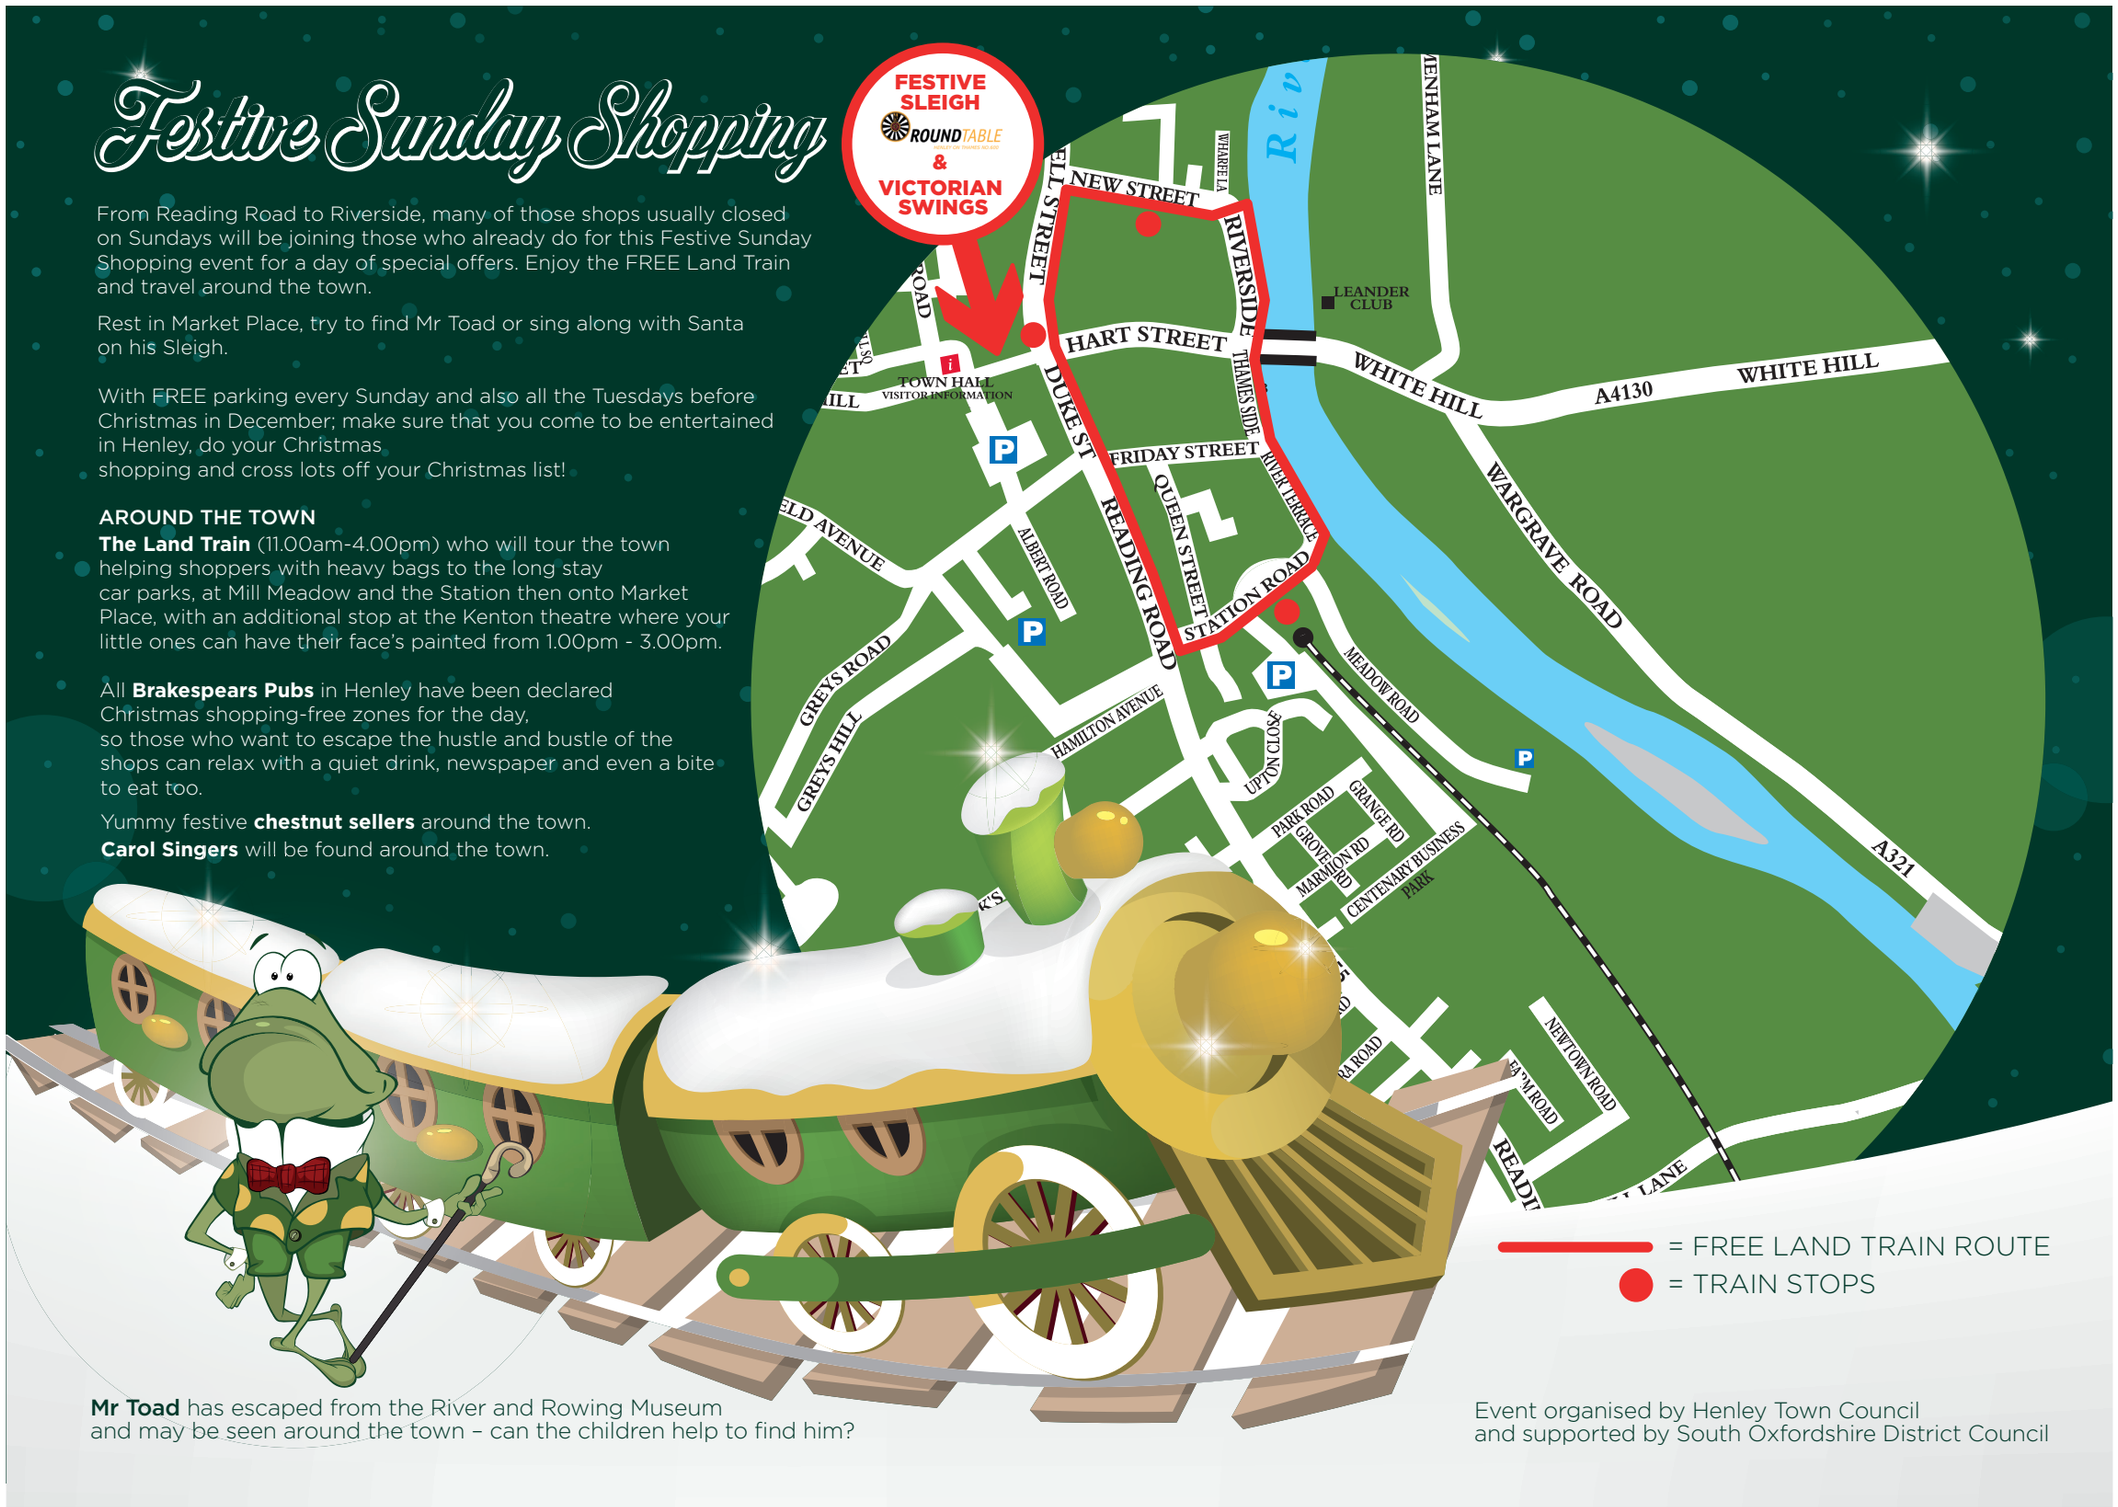

With FREE parking every Sunday and also all the Tuesdays before Christmas in December; make sure that you come to be entertained in Henley, do your Christmas shopping and cross lots off your Christmas list!

AROUND THE TOWN

The Land Train (11.00am-4.00pm) who will tour the town helping shoppers with heavy bags to the long stay car parks, at Mill Meadow and the Station then onto Market Place, with an additional stop at the Kenton theatre where your little ones can have their face's painted from 1.00pm - 3.00pm.

All Brakespears Pubs in Henley have been declared Christmas shopping-free zones for the day, so those who want to escape the hustle and bustle of the shops can relax with a quiet drink, newspaper and even a bite to eat too.

Yummy festive chestnut sellers around the town.
Carol Singers will be found around the town.

Mr Toad has escaped from the River and Rowing Museum and may be seen around the town – can the children help to find him?

Event organised by Henley Town Council and supported by South Oxfordshire District Council
